

Hello 3rd graders!

My challenge is for you to read at least five chapter books this summer. I want you to choose books that interest you and that you would enjoy reading. I have included a reading log. Write down all of the books you read over the summer!

Next, you will write and give a BOOK TALK to your classmates about the best two books you read over the summer. Last, I want you to pick your favorite book and also make something that you can share with your classmates about the book. It can be a poster, an object you made that represents the book, a picture of your favorite scene, or anything else that you think would help the class learn about your book. BE CREATIVE!

REMEMBER to bring the completed forms and your book to school the first week of school.
